

Leigh Jepson

Area Care Manager - North

Hello, my name is Leigh Jepson,

Area Care Manager in the North

About me

I am passionate about coaching and developing people to achieve their career goals and aspirations, motivating them to deliver an outstanding level of service to our customers, colleagues and carers. What gets me out of bed in the morning is knowing that today could be the day that I make a real difference to someone. To relax when not working I love nothing more than spending time with family and long walks along the Northumberland coast with my three crazy dogs.

My experience and expertise

I have not worked in the care industry that long, taking the leap from financial services in April of 2020. Previously, I worked for a high street bank for 13 years and before that I ran my own business whilst bringing up my children.

I have found the transition into the care sector very rewarding; every day is different. It has opened up a whole new world to me where I have been able to use some of my skills to make a real difference which is very important to me.

Within my first few months I have met and worked with some amazing individuals who inspire me every day to be the best version of myself that I can be. Nowhere else would you get the heartwarming stories that we come across daily of our amazing staff truly making a difference to someone's life .

Who would want to work anywhere else ?

Why I chose Helping Hands

I chose Helping Hands as after working in banking for so long I had become disheartened with what I saw. I no longer felt I could make a difference to people. Making the transition to a company like Helping Hands as enabled me to get my spark back. I love how they are willing to listen to your ideas, to innovate and to make change for the better .
